Clocking in and out

Most of us all have to clock in and out at work. Some people may think of work in this way.

I must admit some Monday feel like this. Clocking in (To a time clock pictured below) would that affect your day?

May be it's just a programmer with a sense of humor?

Sure don't want to clock in –
Clocking out would be cool.

Now I know it's a programmer with a sense of humor, or twisted sense of humor.

We also have to clock into the employee's dining room.

There they have word "enjoy"

That's an oxymoron

Enjoy – EDR Food?
